

Dislocated Worker PROGRAM

Have you been laid off and need training or help returning to work?

The Dislocated Worker Program can help you with:

- Providing support to turn a difficult situation into a positive outcome.
- Identify the skills and experience that give you an edge in the labor market.
- Assessments to help you identify interests, skills, and abilities.
- Help determine if you need to upgrade your education, competencies, or credentials to better compete in today's market.
- And much more...
